Tyrus 12819

Tyrus is caring, well rounded, and an incredibly sweet guy. He may be soft spoken but is a great conversationalist. He has a youthful appearance, with charming cheekbones, and friendly eyes. Currently, he is studying computer science and hopes to pursue a career involving it; However, he would like to have a family of his own one day and enjoys sports, art, and aspires to travel more.

Tyrus has a dedicated personality, and we were impressed to hear that he has played piano for over a decade! Additionally, Tyrus is a major basketball fan and takes vast interest in the NBA and NFL. We enjoy having Tyrus around, and we are grateful to have him in our program!
