Steiner is a lively, 6'1" fellow with an energetic and mischievous air about him. His fair skin is sprinkled with light freckles, adding a hint of whimsy to his appearance. His oval-shaped head has a distinct look, emphasized by a slight, bulbous nose that gives him a bit of quirky manliness. Brown wavy hair sits atop his head, often slightly messy, reflecting his playful and carefree nature. His oval, blue eyes are sharp, always gleaming with curiosity. Steiner has a kind smile framed by a set of well-kept teeth, and he often disarms others with his unpredictable, fun-loving spirit.

Steiner works as an accountant with a hidden streak of playful energy. While he may crunch numbers during the day, his true passion lies behind the keys of a piano, where his musical talent truly shines. Steiner is also inseparable from his fraternal twin brother, who is his best friend and partner in all kinds of fun. Their bond is unbreakable, and they share inside jokes only twins could understand. Outside of work and music, Steiner has a major soft spot for Chinese food—he says it's his favorite. Despite his laid-back, easygoing nature, Steiner's dedication to his passions and family brings a sense of purpose to everything he does.
