

Staff Impression Ahmed 12963

Ahmed is introverted, organized, and athletic! He has a stoic demeanor; he tends to be shy at first as his personality shows once he gets to know you! His face is rectangular, with a square jaw that is lined with a trimmed and shaped beard. Ahmed has a runner's build, lean and muscular. Health is paramount to him and is reflected in his ten years of practicing yoga, weightlifting, and running. His commitment to his passions is evident here!

Ahmed is respectful and kind, his velvet brown eyes truly light up when talking about his interests and dedication to his career. He values honesty and sincerity which he believes are key to his current accomplishments and further progression in his tech career. It brings him great joy and fulfillment to succeed in this way and to help others with the knowledge that he's gained in the process. Ahmed has a multitude of passions as well, diving deep into science fiction when reading and Westerns when watching a favorite movie! Virtual reality and video games are also an interest for him, linking well with his career in tech. While typically an introvert, and not always enjoying a large crowd, Ahmed loves spending quality time with his friends. Board games and puzzles are ways he winds down and connects with the people he cares about. Ahmed is a wonderful donor choice for someone looking for an attractive, humble, confident donor who balances success and happiness with ease.
