Linstead is a 6'4" powerhouse of personality, with roots in both African American and Jamaican cultures. His sharp brown eyes and stylish black curls give him an effortlessly cool vibe, and his signature glasses complete the look. Always up for a laugh, he's full of energy and curiosity—just don't offer him any peanuts (he's allergic!). Whether he's cracking jokes or turning heads with his amazing smile, Linstead's presence is as bold as his height!

Linstead is a computer science pro who's all about solving problems with style—and he absolutely loves every minute of it! With an incredible memory that never seems to miss a detail, he's the go-to guy for cracking codes and winning ping-pong matches. Raised by parents who taught him independence and self-sufficiency, he's forever grateful for those life lessons. Fun fact: Linstead once stole the spotlight in a talent show by busting out a custom dance to Sugarhill Gang's "Jump on It"—and yes, it was legendary. Loyal, hands-on, and always ready for a challenge, Linstead is as dependable as he is fun!
