Seattle Sperm Bank (SSB) is located in Seattle, Washington. We have made it our mission to practice the highest quality standards in the recruitment, screening, storage, and distribution of donor sperm. Every qualified donor undergoes rigorous screening procedures as outlined by FDA and state regulations.

Over the years, we have helped thousands of clients create families by combining a personal and compassionate approach with uncompromising scientific expertise. We are committed to providing our clients the very best in donor selection and customer service.

SSB offers a wide variety of donors and we specialize in Open ID donors. These men have agreed to at least one contact with any offspring born through the use of their sperm, at the child's request, when he or she reaches 18 years of age.

Choosing a donor can be a difficult and sometimes daunting task. We seek to walk clients through the entire selection process and we provide a number of donor specific informational materials for little to no cost.
